

2022 Elementary Summer Reading

Dear Parents and Guardians,

We hope that you had a wonderful school year - it really was so great to be back in person! Nevertheless, we all look forward to the summer months because they are a great time for rest and relaxation.

We truly believe that one of the best ways to relax is to sit with a book and read. We would love for your children to spend time doing just that, and we have found several options for them to keep track of their reading.

We have attached a list of many different options for summer reading. You and your child can choose to do one of the activities, or sign up for more than one. The important thing is that your child spends time reading this summer - they will benefit in so many ways!

Additionally, North Attleboro Public Schools purchased a Renaissance MyOn license for every student! Please use this link to access over 7,000 books online. Students will have access from June 23rd to August 31st. See below for additional information.

We hope that you find this resource helpful and will encourage your child to participate.

Thank you for your support!

Summer Reading Scholastic Home Base

Scholastic has a summer reading challenge in which kids go online to record the minutes they've read during the summer. This year, kids can build an avatar, make new friends, earn virtual rewards, and help unlock donations for kids with limited or no access to books. All you need to do is sign up and keep a "reading streak" in Scholastic Home Base over the summer!

READCamp

READCamp is the free virtual summer reading training camp for kids in ages/grades PreK-12. They'll participate in training, drills and practice in order to maintain literacy skills and stay in great reading shape. Led by "Head Coach" Malcolm Mitchell, READCamp motivates kids to sack "the summer slide" and tackle the learning gap. In 2021 we had 12,500 kids from all across the country join us for the summer. Let's top that in 2022.

The MyOn program through

Renaissance gives students unlimited online access to over 7000 titles. There are enhanced digital books, as well as age-appropriate news articles. Your child should be able to find lots of engaging and interesting texts to keep them reading all summer! Click this link to get started. Usernames are students' naschools email address, the password for students is myon123.
